

Heart clinic gains new name, concept

The Mary Louise Griffith Rheumatic Heart Clinic, founded in 1946 at San Antonio Community Hospital to screen rheumatic fever patients, has a new name, a new logo and a new concept.

Because of the decreased use of the clinic in recent years and an increase in the number of other agencies available for the diagnostic evaluation of children with cardiac problems, the clinic was changed to the Mary Louise Griffith Heart Fund.

The clinic is now able to provide up to $500 to eligible heart patients with a financial need.

To this date, the fund has been sustained almost entirely by memorial contributions made by citizens of the West End, according to a history of the fund recently published in booklet form by the San Antonio Community Hospital Women's Auxiliary.

There are still families in the West End not eligible for federal and state programs. When illness strikes, they are unable to carry the financial burden of medical care, the booklet claimed.

Some of these people, according to hospital Assistant Administrator Hans Wiik, might include those who are new to the area and don't yet qualify for other programs or people on pensions who can't afford comprehensive medical insurance.

The cost of treating a heart condition can vary from $1,000 to $2,000 or more according to Wiik. The cost is great and the amount remaining to be paid by the family varies with the coverage each individual family has.

The women's auxiliary and San Antonio Community Hospital are grateful for the memorial contributions given to the fund, the booklet said. "It is a tribute to Dr. Griffith (who established the clinic in his sister Mary's name) and the auxiliary that this program has served our community for over 26 years."

The auxiliary and the hospital, always searching for more contributions for the heart fund, are seeking local heart patients who have the financial need and meet eligibility requirements.

Only hospitalized patients admitted with coronary heart disease (hypertensive heart disease, myocardial infarction, congestive heart failure, ischemic heart disease, heart block and arrhythmias or arteriosclerotic heart and artery disease) under the direct care of San Antonio Hospital physicians or those referred by the hospital's physicians to other facilities are eligible to receive financial assistance under the fund.

Application for funds is restricted to once a year for the same patient. Priority will be given to those patients under age 65. In special circumstances, arrangements may be made with the administrator for additional benefits under the hospital's charity program.

Benefits will cover both hospital and physician fees based on the period of hospitalization. Disbursement will be on a direct proportion basis according to the determined charges of the hospital and physician. Physician fees during the period of hospitalization will be calculated on the current relative value studies (RVS) of the California Medical Association.

Applications should be made in writing or by telephone to the hospital's business services office, 985-2811, ext. 1581 or 1575. The business office will complete the application forms, obtaining the necessary patient information.

An appointed committee of the women's auxiliary will review the completed application and determine eligibility.

According to the auxiliary, the application procedure will be completed as rapidly as possible to avoid delay of hospitalization. For emergency admissions, application can be initiated during the period of hospitalization.

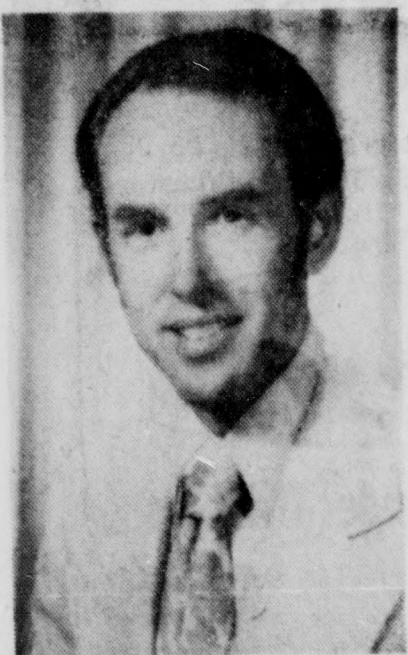

Patients benefiting from the fund, according to the auxiliary, will be informed that the Mary Louise Heart Fund has paid a specific amount against the balance of their hospital and physician billings. Repayment, if and when possible, will be "gratefully accepted" as a donation so that others of the community can continue to benefit from the fund.

WHY ARE THEY SMILING? — Upland High School students and Neighborhood Youth Corp (NYC) workers Robert Flores, and Mary Lou Castrejon are smiling because they've just about finished painting the main room of the Upland Memorial Park Community Center building. The paint job, in powder blue and white enamel, was finished Friday.

UPLAND CITY HALL — The last of the "add on" signs to a large sign in front of the Upland City Hall, now under construction, reveals that the city's residents have assumed no bonded indebtedness for the building. The city hall's completion date, changed by a recent carpenter's strike which is now over, is Sept. 2. The moving-in date could be near the last of September.

Concentrated summer class called success

Upland High School students were able this summer to attend a concentrated, 17-day extended summer school session, sandwiched between the regular summer session and the fall quarter.

Reaction to the new program, from both teachers and students, has been so positive to almost assure continuance next summer, creating a "year around school" at the high school.

Ninety students are enrolled in classes in civics and contemporary American history and drivers training, approximately 34 enrolled in the civics class, compared to 928 students enrolled in the regular summer school program which closed two weeks ago.

According to civics teacher Don Frankson, who enjoys teaching the intensified session, a teacher can't do as effective a job in the intensified program as in the regular program because the course is so "concentrated."

What normally are two, nine week courses one hour per day, have been converted to one 17-day, four-hours per day course, with classes from 8 a.m. to 12:20 weekdays.

From a curriculum standpoint, according to Frankson, it's an "awful lot" to accomplish within a short time.

Frankson and some students have found the course exciting, outweighing any loss of teaching effectiveness. The freedom and comfortable learning environment is advantageous, with virtual monopoly on use of school facilities.

Students who take the course merely to fulfill the graduation requirement can finish easier in the extended session, Frankson said, but people who want to learn can get more out of the extended session class.

"The nice thing here is that it's voluntary," he said. "The kids who want to come to the class can come. The kids who want to get through school quicker, can get through school quicker by attending the extended session."

Of the students interviewed, all felt the extended session should become an established program and be offered next summer.

According to student Carol Stapp, the extended session class "keeps your interest longer... We can make it through the day without dying... It doesn't give us a chance to get bored with classes."

Most of the students agreed with Carol when she said that it's easier to get desired classes with the extra session.

Student Frank Mizuno said he enjoyed the class because of its relaxed, informal atmosphere. The student develops a closer relationship to the teacher in the extended session, he said.

Laura McCrea enjoys the class but isn't learning as much as in a regular class. Students are learning a lot of civics but not as much contemporary American history (from 1945 to the present), she said.

Most of the students said they liked the session because it is "short."

The extended session was partially the result of an interest by the high school to develop the year around school to better utilize school facilities, according to Assistant Principal Don Culp.

Since facilities were "quite actively" used during the regular session, he said, it was decided to offer an extra session which would give students one more option of classes for the summer.

The extra session has also eliminated a backlog of students trying to take driver education courses. Because of the great demand for the course from students who want to obtain drivers licenses, Culp said, the regular program hasn't been able to keep up.

Another "advantage" of offering the extra session, he said, is to offer summer school to students who cannot attend the regular summer school session due to family vacations.

Culp said the school will evaluate the post session and student interest in the program next spring before continuing the program.

"I'm happy with it personally and feel that we will repeat this experience next year," he added.

If the school hopes to continue the extended session next summer, there are a few suggestions from civic class students that might be considered.

According to several students, the entire summer program of education should be broken down into three, 17-day sessions (from the current seven-week regular summer session and the 17-day extra session).

The students agreed that they might not attend all three sessions, but would if they needed the units to graduate.

The students also suggested that the school publicize the extra session more than the first session. They agreed that it would be a more popular program if more students knew about it.

Officers, program set for art group

New officers and program date for the upcoming year have been announced by Chaffey District Art Association First Vice President Joyce A. Barnett, a former association president and current chairman of programming.

New officers, also to serve as the board of directors, include Mrs. Barnett, Ontario; Walter L. "Barney" Barnett, president, Ontario; Elmira Pratt, second vice president and hospitality chairman, Claremont; Lorene Masters, treasurer, Alta Loma; Grace Richards, assistant treasurer and membership chairman, Cucamonga; and Mary Maher, secretary, Upland.

Others include Forrest E. Doucette, publicity, Upland; Miriam Perry, exhibit chairman, Ontario; Stephen Knittel, festival chairman, Upland; Clint Bryant, ways and means chairman, Upland; Diane Reiner, newsletter chairman, Upland; Margaret Steiner, telephone chairman, Upland; and the trustees of the "Permanent Collection," Selma Mast, Ontario; Helen Maurer, Ontario; and Harriet White, Upland.

Eleven public programs will begin Sept. 19 with a banquet at the Arbor Restaurant, Upland, followed by monthly programs Oct. 17, Nov. 21 and Dec. 12 and in January, February, March and April, 1975.

Programs will be held in the city council chambers at the old Upland City Hall, corner of Second Ave. and D St. May, June and July programs are in the planning stages.

The art association was founded in 1941 by Mr. and Mrs. Francis Line as a memorial to their daughter Barbara and was incorporated in 1964 as a non-profit corporation.

In 1967, a student aid fund for art students at Chaffey College was started. In 1968, the "get acquainted coffees" were started to better familiarize new members with the organization's aims and purposes. Demonstrations were held at various homes in painting, stichery, ceramics, collage, silk screen paintings, printing, bamboo pen drawings and paper mache.

The art association is unique being the first group of its kind to be organized in the southwest.

"From the time of its beginning 33 years ago, its officers and members have kept in mind the original objectives and have continued to present art in all media and art of the highest standards," the spokesman said. "These efforts are emphasized with association meetings each month, featured art talks and demonstrations September through June, and an annual art festival in July."

Upland trustee to resign from board

Erwin J. Schneekloth will resign his Upland School District board seat effective Aug. 31, it was announced this week.

The Upland School District Board of Trustees decided Tuesday to not hold a special election and instead appoint a "provisional trustee" to a seat which will be contested in the March 4 election.

A costly special election would have produced two school board elections in less than six months.

State law required board members appoint a provisional trustee 30 days after the county superintendent is notified of a submitted resignation that will not be filled by a special election.

Schneekloth, who has two years remaining on his term, said a job transfer to Nebraska forced him to submit the resignation.

Upland's Martini shatters ski mark

Joan Martini, 17, broke the women's record for the Catalina water ski race out of Long Beach Harbor Sunday by clocking the 62-mile run in 1 hour, 10 minutes.

The Upland girl, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chuck Martini, has been competing on water skis for 13 years. Miss Martini holds the women's national water skiing championship and will race in the 1974 national race on Sept. 21 at Havasu, Ariz.

In the Catalina race, Miss Martini's boat came in sixth out of 90 competitors.

There were 10 women in the race including Miss Martini's mother, Doris, who took fourth place.

Winning the men's race was Tim Guckes of Laguna. He broke the record by clocking the run in 1 hour, four minutes.

Piloting Miss Martini's boat was Jim Ross of Anaheim. Ross is a competitor of off-shores races, and his boat is a 20-foot Spectra.

The old women's record of the Catalina water skiing race was 1 hour, 11 minutes held by Sally Younger of Hacienda Heights. The record had been standing for four years.

The Martini women, Doris and daughters Joan and Linda Draugel, have been racing on water skis for many years. All three hold numerous records. Linda is now married and lives in Flagstaff, Ariz. All three will compete in the women's nationals.

Joan and Doris will race this weekend in the Antacapa 26-mile competition for men and women off the Channel Islands in Oxnard Harbor.

Mrs. Sharon Adams to head United Way drive

Mrs. Sharon M. Adams has been selected chairman of the pilot campaign of the 1974-75 West End United Way Campaign, it was announced today by H.O. (Hank) Russell, campaign chairman.

Tussell continued, "Mrs. Adams will be responsible for assisting a number of local firms in each division in conducting their pilot campaigns. The purpose of pilot firms is to run early campaigns in advance of the scheduled drive, September 22, in order to test the "climate" and to allow the volunteers staffing the West End United Way the opportunity to evaluate the materials and procedures.

Mrs. Adams lives with her husband Jack and children, James 8, and Adrienne 5, in Ontario. She was a graduate of Chaffey College where she received an AA degree in music and an AS degree in nursing. She later received her Bachelor of Arts degree in economics and business administration from La Verne College. Currently, Mrs. Adams is completing 7½ years in administration and relations services for the General Electric Aircraft Services at the Ontario International Airport. She is presently secretary and treasurer of both the Citrus Belt Regional Safety Conference and the San Bernardino section of the Tri-County Chapter of the American Society of Safety Engineers. She also has served as a volunteer American Red Cross Instructor.

In expressing enthusiasm for the West End United Way, Mrs. Adams stated, "I have only recently learned the value of the United Way through being involved in its functioning... by being a volunteer. If more of our community were involved as volunteers, there would be so much more understanding of the West End United Way's worth to the quality of life for all West End citizens!"

Men must register for draft

Have you registered for the draft yet? Inductions have ended but registration and classification continues under the military selective service act.

The registration process is a simple one and may be completed at any local board office or at a registration point established throughout the area. Questions regarding registration or other selective service matters may be referred to any local board office. Offices in the area to serve you are: 2091 E. College budget approved

A final budget of $11,637,138 for Chaffey Community College was adopted Wednesday by the Board of Trustees.

The college reported the 1974-75 budget is based on a tax rate of 64.11 cents per each $100 assessed valuation of property, a 7.5 cent increase over last year's tax rate.

The previous budget was for $8,826,776, $2,810,362 less than this year.

Business Manager Robert E. Totten pointed out that a total accounts for the greater portion of the difference between the two years. There was no construction tax last year.

The general purpose tax and the total rate is 53.03 cents, or 2.37 cents more than last year.

Totten explained that 2.5 cents of the 2.7 cent edge in this category is an adjustment for growth in ADA (Average Daily Attendance), making a net increase of less than a cent.

The community service tax of 3.17 cents in the total rate remains the same for both years. Nearly a cent will be saved in bond interest and redemption, comparing the current years. 2.83 cents with last year's 3.68 cents.

Total tax rates for every $100 of assessed property valuation at this juncture for the year ahead by neighboring community college districts are:

Citrus, 63.60 cents; Mt. San Antonio, 67.77 cents; North Orange County, 71.19 cents; newly expanded North Orange County District, 72.98 cents; Riverside City, 65.22 cents; San Bernardino Valley, 70.42 cents and Victor Valley, 62.70 cents.

Chaffey's increase in budget is due to growth in instructional programs and services, to construction of facilities and to staff additions and wage hikes.

Traffic accidents down 29% in first half of '74

SAN BERNARDINO — California Highway Patrol Commissioner Walter Pudinski said Friday the 55-m.p.h. speed limit has accounted for 39.2 per cent of the reduction of traffic accidents during the first six months of 1974.

During a press conference here, Pudinski said accidents are down about 29 per cent. He said a survey indicates that 28.2 per cent of the reduction is attributed to reduced travel, 14.8 per cent to better distribution of speed and 0.7 per cent to daylight saving time. He said 17.1 per cent has been attributed to unexplained variables.

He said the CHP is concerned with the large increase in motorcycle accidents, which have jumped 17 per cent.

He said the CHP will take action against motorcycle races that are put together without any regard to traffic laws. The CHP does not oppose legitimate races, however.

Pudinski said 71 per cent of the persons who were killed in accidents during the first six months of 1974 were killed in non-speed situations.

He said the CHP will enforce the speed laws but cannot disregard other violations. Fifty two per cent of the fatal accidents in the nation last year involved drinking drivers, and California has dropped that figure to 41 per cent. Pudinski said the CHP will arrest 250,000 drinking drivers this year.

He said people have driven three billion miles less than last year because of many factors, the cost of gasoline, car pools, the fact that stations are not open as much at night, etc. Pudinski said a test program of motorcycle classes has been successful in Fresno and could be expanded throughout the state. Off-duty officers serve as instructors in the program.

Class sessions of the initial course, clinical laboratory assistant (biology 520), will be from 6:30 p.m. to 10:30 p.m., Mondays and Wednesdays.

To complete the program, students will be required to follow up with a second course entitled operation of the clinical laboratory (biology 521). This final course will be announced in a subsequent quarter.

Persons interested in the program are advised to check with the office of admissions for additional data. Registration for the fall quarter is Sept. 4-5 and Sept. 10-11. The college telephone numbers are 987-1737 or 822-4484.

Montclair Swim Club wins title

Montclair Swim Club Diving team, with a score of 116, won the inaugural Citrus Diving Conference team championship.

South Hills Country Club tied with Claremont for the runner-up spot. Alta Loma was fourth.

The Montclair Swim Club offers year round diving programs, including basic diving instruction, novice and AAU competition. Coaches are Mike Dickson and Janet Rose.

The Citrus Conference was formed this summer out of the need for a novice diving program in the Valley. Novice diving gives a youngster a chance to compete with others their own age and same ability level.

Any parents interested in starting their children may contact Mike Dickson at the Montclair High School Plunge, 626-0996 or 624-0791.

Wilderness park idea abandoned

County Service Area 50 decided to drop the idea of a deer and wilderness park in Deer and Day Canyon, just north east of Chaffey College, according to Richard Houtz, chairman.

After some discussion, said Houtz, the members of the group decided that building and maintaining a park in the proposed location would be too costly.

He said they decided it might be better to build another park, in a more accessible area and closer to the majority of the taxpayers in the tri-community area.

CSA 50, he said, is now considering the construction of a community park, possibly with one or two Little League diamonds on it.

Although he said the parcel of land being considered consists of about 10 acres and is adjoining the Metropolitan Water District's Rialto reach line, he declined to say exactly where the site is located until the plans are a little firmer with the county.

West End students honored

Three West End students have been honored by Who's Who Among American High School Students.

Those honored were Raymond Leos of Alta Loma High School, Shawna Taylor of Chaffey High School and Judy Kamstra of Ontario Christian High School.

The trio will be featured in the eighth annual edition of the publication. Students from over 20,000 public, private and parochial high schools throughout the country are recognized for leadership in academics, athletics, activities or community service.

Leos and Kamstra are seniors. Taylor is a junior.

Those honored will compete for one of 10 scholarship awards of $500 to $1,000 funded by the publishers.

Taylor is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James F. Taylor, 1071 Raymond St., Upland; Leos is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Leos, 1374 Sycamore St., Ontario and Kamstra is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbert Kamstra, 8921 Schaefer Ave., Ontario.

By 'canning' trash

Many throwing away money

Many West Enders may be throwing out money every time they take out the trash.

Aluminum cans are worth money — 15 cents a pound to be exact.

And there's a company near Chino that will pay cash for cans every Tuesday and Thursday from noon to 3 p.m. and Saturdays from 8 a.m. to 2 p.m.

In June, the Foothill Beverage Company at 3525 Walnut Ave., Pomona, (at Reservoir Street and the Pomona Freeway) collected 28,340 pounds of cans. That was 4,494 pounds more than the company collected in June of 1973.

Bill Burton, sales manager for the firm, said the program started in 1971. The company moved to its present location in September, 1973, and has been doing a booming aluminum can recycling business since.

The going rate for aluminum cans went from 10 cents to 15 cents a pound on June 1, 1974. The first month, with the new price in effect, there were 525 customers. Those customers shared $4,251. From January to June 31, the company paid out $13,676.90 for 122,589 pounds of cans. That includes five months at the old price of 10 cents a pound.

In the three-and-one-half years the program has been operating, Foothill Beverage has paid out $69,359.90 for returned aluminum cans, said Burton.

The company is interested in cans for two reasons, explained Burton. The first is economy. It takes 95 per cent less energy to make a new can from a recycled one than it does from scratch. The second reason is to "improve the environment," said Burton.

"We're trying to clean up our own mess," said the sales manager. There are thousands and thousands of aluminum cans thrown out every day, he added.

Fifty per cent of all cans containing beer and soda are aluminum, he advised. Aluminum cans are seamless and have rounded bottoms, he said. The other half of the cans made are steel and not recyclable. Foothill Beverage, a distributor for Anheuser-Busch, serves the Pomona and San Gabriel Valley. They sell an average of a quarter of a million cases of canned beer each month. That's over six million aluminum cans each month going out — and the return isn't nearly that high, said Burton.

The figures are even more astounding when you consider that Foothill Beverage accepts all aluminum cans, including soda pop cans. To further stimulate the recycling business, the firm has started a new program, part of a nationwide "Pitch In" plan.

A six-pack collection station is being made available to any service club or fraternal organization interested in making extra money, said Burton.

The company will provide the six-pack bins at no charge to the group. Burton said eight to 10 such bins have already been distributed in the area. Burton explained that most of their customers now are individuals. This will get the groups more involved, he said. A week ago Saturday, one man brought in over 500 pounds of cans. He made a clear profit of $76, said Burton. If one man can make that much, think how much a group could collect, added Burton.

Retired teachers

Mr. and Mrs. William Laurence Toothaker of 7508 Cerrito Rojo, Cucamonga, celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary on July 28 with an afternoon reception and family dinner in the evening.

Hosts were their son and daughter, their spouses and children. Dr. and Mrs. W. L. Toothaker, and sons Craig, Steven and Roger, all of Claremont, and Mr. and Mrs. Gerald D. Lehmer, and sons Kenneth and Jeffrey and daughter, Brenda, all of Pasadena.

Among the 135 guests sharing in the celebration was the Dr. Frank M. Toothaker of Redlands, the honored man's brother, who officiated at the wedding on Aug. 6, 1924, when Justine Conrey and William Toothaker were married. Lucile Conrey of Cucamonga, Mrs. Toothaker's sister who served as maid of honor, also attended the party.

Other guests included: Raymond Branson, a cousin from Sun City, Ariz.; Stanley Reifel, formerly of Ontario, now director of the Fairtree Galleries Institute in Santa Barbara and New York; Wesley Klusman of San Juan Capistrano, formerly national director of camping for the Boy Scouts of America, and Mrs. Klusman; Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Horton of Chula Vista, former educational missionaries in Peru; Mr. and Mrs. Richard Toothaker of Sacramento; and William Frank Toothaker of Newhall.

Fewer use OIA in July

Passenger traffic at Ontario International Airport declined last month in comparison to the same month a year ago.

But the total of 110,184 passengers compared to 117,993 a year ago nevertheless set a new record by making July the fifth month in a row in which more than 100,000 travelers used the airport.

Airport Manager Robert M. Hamilton said he does not see the decline, which he described as possibly due to a number of factors, as initiating a trend.

"Fewer air carrier movements, the increased availability of gasoline for vacationers and a decrease in charter flights using the airport compared to last year may all have contributed," he said.

It was only the second time such a decline occurred in the past two years.

While passenger volume was down, air cargo activity increased 7.4 per cent over last July and so far is running 25 per cent ahead of last year.

Upland Aquatic Club holds off Alta Loma team

Upland Aquatics Novice Team held off a determined Alta Loma squad, 296-271, in recent Mt. Baldy League competition.

Upland's relay teams swept all except the 13-14 age group. Scoring triple wins were Paula Vaughn and Patty Bellomo. In the double column were Mindy Dickinson, Scott Rickard, Steve Week and Dallas Munroe. Adding single victories were Sheila Bellomo, Albert Pattison, Chris Ryan, Annette Trilevsky, Zo Agnetta, Tim Dyar, Joni Goodban and Terry Hutchinson.

Also placing with seconds and thirds were Desiree McDivitt, Monte Dickinson, Diane Dowdell, James Vaughn, Bill Skimina, Jim Cravens, Margaret Vaughn, Beth Basenberg, Lela Fernandez, Gina Gomez and Cathy Agnetta.

Coach Alicia Scott was pleased by the performance of her eight-and-under swimmers who provided the cushion for the win.

Seafood and fish, Connecticut style

NORWALK, Conn. — (NEA) — Lindblom's bright blue eyes and blondish hair reflects his Scandinavian ancestry. A man of the waters, if not of the sea, he was born in Wilton, Conn., and worked on a lake dredge before retiring, he thought, to Florida. However, his wife missed their four grown children and five grandchildren who remained in the Northeast. So a few years ago the couple moved back to Connecticut.

Lindblom came out of retirement and into the retail fish business, "pretty much by chance." A neighbor had space in an old oyster shed and the area needed a good fish store. Now, three days a week Lindblom gets up at 3 a.m. to buy fish and returns to the store by 8 a.m. He enjoys the work and his customers appreciate the fine selection of properly kept fish.

His location reflects the romantic period of the community's history around the turn of the century. Norwalk then was a major center of fishing and, especially, of oystering. Oyster sloop sailed in and out of its harbors and the center of activity was a great wooden oyster shed. Up to 300 people once worked there shucking oysters along a conveyor belt on its second floor. They had to watch their steps since there was a cutout for the masts of the sloops which pulled right into the building to hoist nets full of oysters to the shuckers before returning to Long Island Sound and other fine oystering points of the era.

The oyster shells were sent downhill via little iron cars from the shed and the mountains of oyster shells eventually became landfill. Some work still goes on but the staff is down to three — shucking oysters by hand doesn't pay and most oysters in the area are sold unshucked. Lindblom's fish store, however, is still in the old oyster shed where he sells the local waters' yield of bluefish, flounder, mackerel and weakfish. Lindblom feels strongly that the fishing limit should not be extended 200 miles offshore and points out that the haddock "is just about extinct because of the Russian trawlers fishing the area."

For those who feel squeamish or unsure about selecting and keeping fish or seafood Lindblom explains that fresh, cleaned fish can keep a week if properly chilled. Live lobsters will keep a week if kept cool and moist. Clams and oysters will keep in their shells at least a week, unfrozen (or they may be frozen in the shell or shucked and kept longer), in a cool, dry place. Many, however, prefer to keep them in a kettle or collander in the refrigerator for only two or three days, uncovered, but not in a tightly sealed plastic bag. Lindblom also reveals that there is no need to put hard shell clams in water to which cornmeal has been added because these have no appreciable amount of sand. However, steamers do need to be so treated to allow them to clean themselves of sand before they are table ready.

As more Americans travel from coast-to-coast Lindblom's tips from Connecticut are welcome. As are some favorite recipes from the area:

Baked Stuffed Jumbo Shrimp
8 giant shrimp, shelled, deveined, split
1/2 cup thick cream sauce (2 tablespoons butter, 2 tablespoons flour, 1/2 cup milk)
12 ounce bag small frozen shrimp, finely chopped salt, pepper
first in flour, then in beaten egg thinned with milk, then in seasoned bread crumbs. Deep fry, serve with lemon and melted butter. Makes 4 servings.

Combine chopped shrimp, cream sauce and seasonings and divide into 8 equal portions. Mound a portion on each shrimp and chill. Dip each shrimp first in flour, then in beaten egg thinned with milk, then in seasoned bread crumbs. Deep fry, serve with lemon and melted butter. Makes 4 servings.

Broccoli is good in dishes

By AILEEN CLAIRE
NEA Food Editor
Broccoli is served as a solo vegetable by many and is delicious as such. However, it combines well with a variety of food to make exciting new dishes. Broccoli has been popular since it was first introduced into England in the early 18th century. For a spring treat try a Broccoli Spoon Bread, a casserole dish using fresh broccoli. It is particularly good with ham. When cooking fresh broccoli, slit the stem in a couple places to hasten its cooking otherwise the delicate flowers will cook more quickly than the stems.

Broccoli Spoon Bread
1 bunch broccoli
1 1/2 cups milk
1/2 cup yellow cornmeal
2 eggs, separated
2teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon sugar

To prepare broccoli, cut off large leaves and the bottom of the stalk. Wash well. If stalks are more than inch in diameter, make 2 lengthwise slits almost to the flowerets. Cook broccoli, uncovered, in boiling salted water to cover until tender, about 15 minutes. Drain, reserving 1/2 cup liquid for Parmesan Sauce*. In medium saucepan, gradually stir milk into cornmeal. Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly, until thickened, about 5 minutes. Remove from heat, cool slightly. Beat egg yolks until well mixed. Add to cornmeal mixture along with baking powder, salt and sugar; mix well. Beat egg whites until stiff but not dry. Fold into cornmeal mixture. Arrange broccoli, stems to center, in a well-greased 1-quart casserole or baking dish. Pour cornmeal batter over broccoli, smoothing it over the broccoli and to the edge of the casserole. Bake in 375-degree oven 45 to 50 minutes, until golden brown. Serve with Parmesan Sauce*. Makes 4 servings.

Parmesan Sauce
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 tablespoon cornstarch
1 cup milk
1 cup grated Parmesan cheese
1/2 cup broccoli liquid (reserved from cooking broccoli)
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon white pepper
1/2 teaspoon nutmeg
Melt butter in small saucepan. Stir in cornstarch to form a smooth paste. Gradually stir in milk. Place over low heat and cook, stirring constantly, until mixture is thickened and comes to a boil. Cook 3 minutes longer, continuing to stir. Add cheese a little at a time, stirring until melted. Stir in broccoli liquid, salt, pepper and nutmeg. Heat.

Judging a carpet shampoo
It makes no difference whether the floor covering is light or dark, or whether it's natural fiber or a synthetic, when you're choosing a rug shampoo. The requirements of the cleaning situation and the equipment available to you determine the best product to use.

The best tasting days of the Los Angeles County Fair are almost here.

The Home Arts Department of the exposition, which runs Sept. 13 through 29, will again sponsor the annual "My Favorite Chocolate Cake" and "My Favorite Lemon Pie" competitions.

Open only to amateurs, the competitions give all prospective Betty Crockers or Mike Roys a chance to prove their worth in the field of culinary delights.

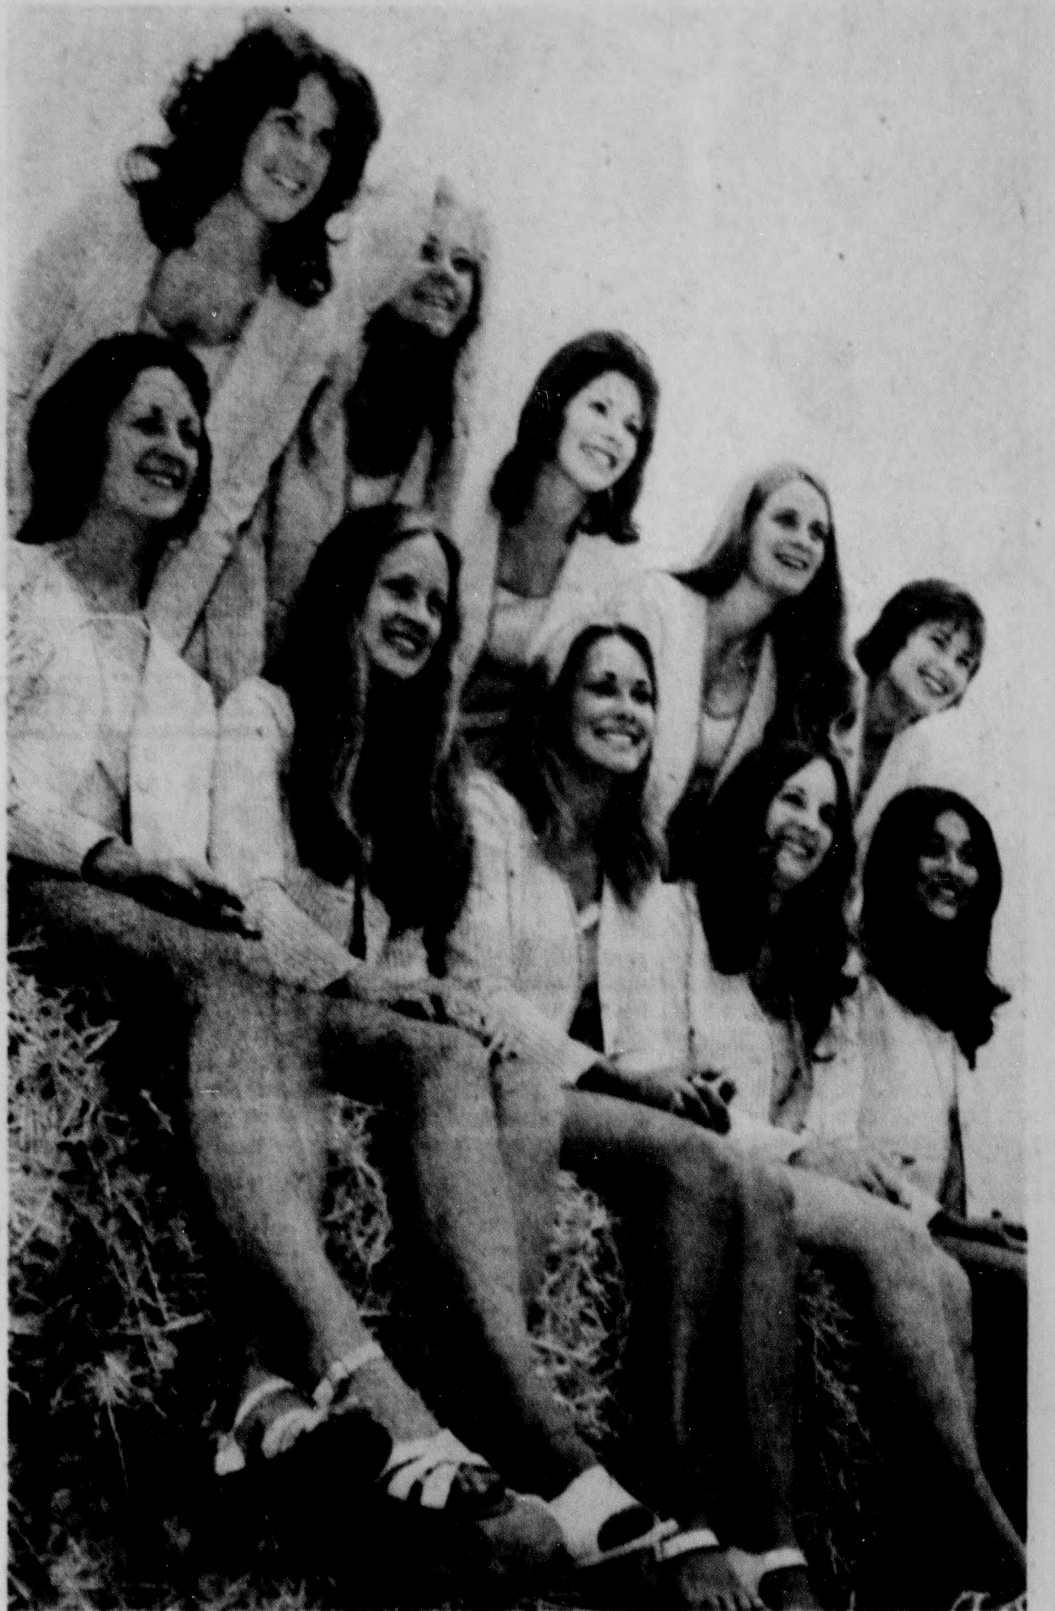

A traditional favorite with chocolate lovers is the Chocolate Cake Contest, which will be held on Wed. Sept. 18 in the Home Arts Showcase. Two divisions are offered junior (under 18) and senior (over 18).

Lemon lovers, have their night Wed. Sept. 25, when judging for My Favorite Lemon Pie gets underway. The 9-inch lemon pies will compete for taste and appetite appeal at 7:30 p.m. in the Home Arts Building. Cash awards will be given in both junior and senior divisions.

Entry deadline for pies and cakes is Aug. 10. All entries must be home prepared.

The Deadly Treasure of Cahuenga Pass

No. 10
IN A SERIES

Old Juan was a shepherd at Paso Robles many years ago. He had no ambition in life except to continue his unadorned existence. He had his sack of red wine which he could squirt into his mouth whenever he felt like it, and he was content.

One night, spotting a light in a nearby arroyo, he moved silently over the hills until he came upon a group of tough-looking men around a small campfire. He recognized them as the desperados who had been robbing the stages in Pacheco Pass.

While he watched unobserved, the robbers dug a hole and took glittering objects from their pockets and dropped them in the hole. Then they covered their cache with dirt, put the embers over this, and rode away.

Juan was there within minutes, scraping at the warm earth with trembling fingers. Soon he began unearthing little leather sacks bulging with coins and gems that winked as if with some inner fire. He loaded his pockets until he could hardly walk and went back to his flock.

All night he dreamed of a fine house and beautiful girls, vintage wine, and venison off silver plates brought to him by his servants. The sheep wandered away as he walked in a daze to the home of a friend three miles away and borrowed a horse.

For two days he traveled until he was close to the settlement of his relatives and friends. Then he carefully buried all his treasure in the woods, except enough for a fiesta.

"Amigos!" he shouted as he entered the cantina. "Join me. An old uncle has died and left me some money." All day he and an increasing number of friends drank steadily from the dust-covered bottles of fine old wine brought up from the cellar. The more Juan drank the more he talked wildly of sacks of gold and handfuls of diamonds and emeralds.

At last, a speech. "Amigos parientes," he hiccupped, "I must admit I have a great fortune that ... A tremor shook his body. In a choking voice he went on, "... big fortune ... much wealth ... buried in the forest in Cahuenga Pass." The veins in his neck bulged crimson. His friends rushed toward him.

"Where is this fortune, Juan?" they shouted. They lifted his head from the table. But Juan was dead, killed by a stroke. Killed by unearned fortune.

Ways to encourage city growth studied

San Dimas officials recently discussed plans to ease up on zoning restrictions and sign ordinances that now hinder many commercial and industrial developments from locating in the city.

These suggestions came out of a meeting attended by members of the city council, planning commission, chamber of commerce and the creative growth review board. The creative growth review board reviews all plans within the downtown redevelopment area.

The meeting was an exchange of ideas between the various commissions on how to attract new business and industry to San Dimas and how to create a positive image of the city.

Mayor Jim Lough asked each commission to discuss the items at future meetings and to make suggestions in a report that will be sent to the city council for action.

Of particular concern is a sign ordinance that requires stores to comply with regulation adopted three years ago to go along with the projected western theme of the city.

Merchants were to comply with the ordinance by March. The planning department in the last few weeks sent letters to property owners suggesting that they comply with the ordinance.

City Councilman Jim McLean supported the views of the downtown businessman last Monday night and said he believes the merchants should be able to use signs as they now exist. He said a $600 sign he had to remove from his business to comply with the ordinance cost him several thousand dollars more in lost business because his new sign is not as readily seen.

But Mark Goldberg, planning director, said it isn't fair to require a merchant constructing a new building to comply with the ordinance and on the other hand permit a merchant who has just purchased a downtown business to use the outdated sign.

The signs may have interior lighting but must avoid plastic exteriors and must blend in with the western theme for the city. The matter was left unresolved and will be on a future City Council agenda.

Goldberg also suggested changes in development standards and conditional use permits. He said conditional use permits cause delays to the prospective merchant.

"We should examine the conditional uses and the list of uses," He said in many ways the city is now too restrictive.

Gospel singers perform Saturday

The Unknown Quantity and the Pathfinders, two popular gospel groups, will present an evening of music at the Ontario Church of the Nazarene, 1311 West Fifth Street, Saturday, Aug. 17, at 7:30 p.m. There will be no admission charge and no pre-planned sermons.

The Unknown Quantity, composed of three housewives, one husband, two bachelors, three cousins, a brother and a sister, one Chino school teacher, three guitars, one piano, one bass, four drums, five voices, and six microphones (but no musical dogs), has been regular performers with Audrey Mier in the past and has been singing on UHF television and in many churches and rallies throughout northern and Southern California. They will sing several songs from their latest album, "Why Me Lord?"

The Pathfinders, also a local group, travels extensively throughout Southern California, making one national tour each year. The group has recorded two sacred albums which can be heard on radio KREL-AM, Corona and KBBL-FM, Riverside. They are also featured regularly on UHF television. Until recently, the Pathfinders had been appearing with Tony Fontane, one of the most well-known names in gospel music, until his death in June. The Pathfinders are highly recommended by artists, disc jockeys, and ministers alike.

Seminar planned August 28

A three-day conference centered on forgiveness and inner healing will be conducted at Christian Chapel in Walnut Aug. 28 through 30, beginning at 7 p.m. Rev. Bob Heil, a former Missouri Synod Lutheran Pastor from Herculaneum, Missouri, will lead the meetings and minister to the congregation. Pastor Heil has left the parish ministry and is now walking by faith as a full-time evangelist with both a strong teaching and healing ministry. For the past ten years he has been heard weekly over various radio stations in his home state. He has been a guest speaker before many FGBM Chapter and convention meetings, congregations, pastoral conferences, and charismatic clinics across the nation. He has also spoken on a number of evangelistic tours throughout Alaska and Colombia, South America.

New film shown by First Baptists

First Baptist Church of Ontario will show a new film from World Wide Pictures, "Isn't It Good to Know," on Sunday, August 25 at 1305 North Euclid Avenue, Ontario. It will begin at 7:00 p.m.

"Isn't It Good to Know" is a new attempt in film making from the Billy Graham Film Ministries. There aren't actors to play a part, just real people revealing their lives.

The film is far from being a documentary, however. It combines the multi-media effects of varying images on the same screen and a technique of shifting from true stories to brief spots with Billy Graham to original music with video background.

"Isn't It Good to Know" tells of the changes that occurred in the lives of the discussion participants. The film's basic thrust was expressed by one participant as, "You can't put your eyes on a human being and expect security, or an answer, or happiness, or any of these things. You've got to put your eyes on Jesus Christ."

The film is being shown free of charge, however, there will be a free-will offering with all proceeds going to Billy Graham Film Ministries. The First Baptist Church welcomes all to see this motion picture.

'Time to Run' to be aired at Citrus College

A special one-night screening of the movie, "Time to Run," will be presented Aug. 17 at 7:30 p.m. in the Citrus College Auditorium, sponsored by the Covina Youth for Christ-Campus Life.

Tickets for the Aug. 17 performance are on sale at the Youth for Christ office, 461 N. Grand Ave., Covina.

LVC team to use new grid field

LA VERNE — Football coach Roland Ortmyer and his staff will begin football practice Monday, Sept. 2, on the new La Verne College Field.

We anticipate the new field will be ready," assistant coach Dwight Hanawalt said. "We certainly hope so. For the past two years, we've been practicing on the baseball field without any kind of lines or even goal posts."

Ortmyer has 27 returning lettermen. However, trying to determine much more about the makeup of the 1974 Leopards is difficult because of "Ort's" unusual philosophy.

"My approach to football at La Verne," Ort explained, "holds me to the point-of-view that no student is a football player nor squad member until Sept. 2 and that status changes immediately after our last game."

"New students, freshman and transfers," he continued, "will probably bring our 1974 squad to approximately 70 members. But until we see who shows up, I have no idea who will be on the 1974 team."

According to Ortmyer, 46 members of last year's team are eligible to return. He estimated an additional 10 or 12 students who were on campus last spring will also join the squad.

"These are transfers and present students who were considering trying football at La Verne," Ortmyer concluded.

Listed as outstanding among the returnees are junior fullback Curtis Frick who made all SCIAAC first team in both his freshman and sophomore years.

On defense, middle guard Jeff Button made ALL-SCIAAC and ALL District Three NAIA. "Button is a great leader and an outstanding tackler," commented Ort of the 5-9, 200-pounder who led the team in tackles last year.

Other players listed as outstanding by Ortmyer are:

John Karns ("One of the top kickers in small college ball"); Gus Newson ("Great tools to handle the strong safety duties"); sophomore tackle Dave Courey ("Versatile and skilled"); center Roger Hanawalt ("Excellent prospect changed from defensive end to offensive center"); defensive back Casey O'Gorman ("Skilled at diagnosing plays and getting to the right place.");

Possible offensive starters this year include:

Ends — Rusty Jackson, junior, 6-2, 175; Bob Weaver, soph., 5-10, 140; tackles — Dave Courey, soph., 5-10, 225; Chris Willits, soph., 6-0, 245; guards — Brad Baughman, senior, 5-10, 190; Brad Chapman, junior, 5-11, 185; center — Roger Hanawalt, junior, 6-0, 185; fullback — Curtis Frick, junior, 6-0, 200; quarterback — Alvin Barela, soph., 5-4, 148; slotback — Ron Kimball, soph., 6-2, 210; and tailback — Paul Larson, senior, 5-8, 168.

Possible defensive starters include: ends — Scott Bowser, soph., 6-0, 180; Frances Vander Kellen, senior, 5-8, 165; tackles — Grant Seiler, senior, 6-1, 215; Mark Setterland, senior, 6-0, 215; middle guard — Jeff Button, senior, 5-9, 200; linebackers — John Herrera, soph., 5-11, 175; Dwayne Smith, soph., 195; defensive secondary — Gus Newson, junior, 6-2, 195; Casey O'Gorman, junior, 5-10, 170; Greg Brown, senior, 5-9, 165; Joe McKellar, soph., 5-11, 165.

Ortmyer's assessment of 1974 prospects: "To be a contender in SCIAAC play, La Verne will need to come up with additional strength in the offense at quarterback, wide receiver and slot back. If these three positions can be adequately filled, we can make a good run at being in the top division."

"Defensively, the end and tackle positions are up for grabs and need to be strengthened if the Leopards are to keep their usual defensive strength."

Upland tax March of Dimes rises with leader named its budget

The Upland City Council on Monday adopted a $6.536 million budget that includes a 6 1/2-cent tax hike.

The new tax rate stands at $1.86 1/2 cents per $100 assessed valuation.

Monday's budget approval concludes three months of financial juggling and review. The most widely debated aspect of the budget was a 7 1/2 per cent raise given city employees. The raise, which employees maintained didn't keep up with inflationary prices, will cost the city an estimated $173,000.

This was partially offset by the county's announcement of assessed valuation increases, which amounted to $34,000 more than the city originally anticipated.

In an effort to cut the budget, councilmen red penciled a $18,000 mechanic's bay and $21,000 for a complete new library rug, deciding instead to spend only $6,000 on a partial rug. Councilmen also cut $4,000 from Euclid Avenue tree topping funds.

The budget includes a $105,000 expenditure for the nearly-completed city hall. Those funds will complete payments on the city's construction contract, provide minimum landscaping and pay for other building expenses.

Samuel J. Gnerre, Fontana, has been elected chairman of the San Bernardino County March of Dimes Executive Committee. Gnerre has served the voluntary health agency for the past 25 years and has served in all phases of fund-raising and community service activities of the chapter.

Also, elected as officers are vice-chairman, Mrs. Don Simmons, Highland; secretary, Sylvia Pomura, R.N., Fontana; treasurer, Bill Howatt, Victorville.

Members elected to serve on the executive committee are: Bill Rosenberger, Redlands; Mrs. Daria Pittman, Ontario; Vernon Bragg, San Bernardino; Prof. Don Caetano, San Bernardino; Charles Wagner, San Bernardino; Dr. Robert Hughes, San Bernardino; Irving E. Allen, M.D., San Bernardino; Col. Robert Downs, Norton Air Force Base; Raymond B. Rucker, San Bernardino; Herb Yeier, Redlands; Attorney Ralph H. Prince, San Bernardino and John Cross, Bloomington.

In accepting the chairmanship Gnerre stated: "Our future children are our most precious resource. Each birth is, essentially, a recycling of life. We can recycle health and vitality by insuring a healthy birthright for our children, or we can recycle poor health, despair and ignorance by ignoring those mothers-to-be who need guidance most and least know where to seek it. The number one health threat to our children today is birth defects. Over 2,000 babies will be born in this county during 1974 with physical or mental handicaps and, in many cases, proper care during pregnancy could have prevented some of those handicaps," commented the chairman.

Juniors will hold Olympics

Members and prospective members of the Upland Junior Women's Club will compete for first place ribbons during the annual Junior Olympics to be held Thursday, Aug. 22, at the home of Margaret Troje, social chairman.

The events will include jumping rope, hopscotch, jacks and relays.

A salad luncheon will be served at 11:30 a.m. preceding the competition.

Any women between the age of 18 and 35 years who would like to join the competition and learn more about the Junior Women's Club are asked to call 985-5747 or 985-8932 before Aug. 22.

Discolored water is still harmless

Residents of La Verne Heights may have to put up with discolored water in their taps for perhaps another three months. But the water is harmless.

So says City Manager George Caswell in reporting on calls he has received regarding the flow of orange, brownish, greyish and greenish water through the pipes into sinks.

Caswell admitted that residents in North La Verne have been getting stained water, but claims there is no harm in it, and there is nothing the city can do about it right now.

"Because of excessive demands for more water in the summer months the city uses the facilities of the Plateau Mutual system to add to the supply," he explained. "This disturbs the normal flow dislodging the natural buildup of minerals in the pipes. But the quality of the water is not reduced in any way."

He said the water should become colorless again when the two new reservoirs are completed in the foothills. Emerald reservoir is expected to be finished in 30 days and the Wheeler Avenue reservoir is scheduled for completion within 90 days.

Many fish can be seen at the fair

POMONA — Angels and Convicts, Hatchets and Swords. These are but four of the many varieties of tropical fish which can be seen at the Los Angeles County Fair's Aquarium Show.

Liskey, Holzinger vows exchanged

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Holzinger of Claremont, chose a gown of antique white slipper satin covered with a coatdress of Chantilly lace which flowed into a chapel train. The long fitted sleeves and collar were embroidered with seed pearls. The gown has been worn by the bride's mother at her wedding. A four-tiered illusion veil was caught to a crown of Chantilly lace and pearls. The bride carried pale blue baby's breath.

She was escorted by her father.

Miss Lisa Holzinger was her sister's maid of honor, and bridesmaids were Mrs. Pamela Trembley, Miss Barbara Kutyla, Miss Laura Holzinger and Miss Terry Ann Holzinger, another sister of the bride. Miss Patricia Roach was in charge of the guest book.

School budget

The Hacienda La Puente school board has adopted a $42.9 million 1974-75 budget which is $108,000 over anticipated income, and requires a tax increase.

Adoption was by a 3-2 vote which followed a lengthy discussion on how the deficit might be reduced or eliminated.

Board member Bruce McPherson expressed concern about the proposed 11-cent tax increase that would be required to reach the district revenue limit imposed by state law.

McPherson and William Torres both voted against adoption, pointing out that their "no" votes reflected their concern over deficit financing. A majority of the board could not agree on any concrete way to balance proposed income and expenditures.

Board president James McKechnie, noted that the proposed deficit had already been reduced by 50-per cent prior to publication of the budget, and the $108,000 amounts to less than two-tenths of one per cent of the total spending program.

Dr. Earl Denton, district superintendent, explained that there are normally many adjustments that must be made in the course of the year, all with board approval.

"It's impossible to lay out a spending program a year in advance, and have it come out exactly the way you anticipate," he said. Many of the budget figures must be educated estimates based on the experience of previous years, they are not always absolute figures.

"The deficit is, of course, going to change if all the spending we've projected does not take place or if income exceeds our expectations. For example, last year's budget at the time of adoption showed a planned deficit of $143,178, yet the year ended with a deficit condition of only $74,583."

CUP granted for dog kennel by planners

The San Dimas Planning Commission has granted a conditional use permit for the operation of a new dog boarding kennel at 329 W. Covina Blvd.

Malcolm Helman told the commission last week that he plans to use an existing house on the property for a residence and will construct new covered shelters, dog runs and grass areas for the dogs.

He said he plans to start operations with 15 or 16 dogs for breeding purposes and will later expand his facilities to boarding of dogs.

The conditional use permit was granted following a lengthy discussion by commission members of the 22 restrictions that are included in the permit.

In other action, the commission granted Rick Falstein, owner of Partner's Auto Supply, 167 N. San Dimas Canyon Road, permission to use his present business sign although it doesn't conform with the coloring of other signs in the San Dimas Canyon Shopping Center.

Falstein explained to the commission that his sign is in black and white instead of the yellow and red as originally approved by the commission because of an error by the sign company.

Falstein presented a petition to the commission signed by merchants in the center which stated that they do not object to the present sign.

Proposed travel rules rapped for handicapped

WASHINGTON (UPI) —

Proposed federal safety regulations for handicapped airline travelers, designed to allow them to get on more flights, are still under attack.

At a briefing by the Federal Aviation Administration Monday, the proposals were criticized by the National Paraplegia Foundation, a handicapped government official and a former U.S. solicitor general and his disabled wife.

FAA spokesmen said the rules were necessary to assure that handicapped travelers could be safely evacuated from airplanes during emergencies.

The proposals were announced after publicized refusals of some airlines to serve wheelchair passengers on grounds they would need help evacuating a plane in an emergency.

The proposals require a medical certificate that a handicapped traveler would not need any assistance, a limit on the number of disabled passengers on any one plane, special seating for the handicapped away from emergency exits and a ban on airlines refusing service to the blind or deaf.

"If approved, the regulations would allow air carriers to make discriminatory decisions as to a person's ability to function in an emergency evacuation," said David Williamson, NPF executive director.

"In addition, the regulations would allow the carrier to determine the maximum number of handicapped persons on a specific flight."

Patricia Thoben, in charge of hiring the handicapped for the Civil Service Commission, said she was twice refused flight tickets by different airlines on the same day because she is in a wheelchair.

"I'm hard put to accept that disabled people, particularly the visibly disabled, have caused an accident," she said.

One vote margin

The closest presidential election in U.S. history was the disputed election of 1876 in which Rutherford B. Hayes defeated Samuel Tilden by a single electoral vote.
